9

When things go well I am afraid I won't be able to replicate the success

I find it hard to accept compliments or praise when I have done something well

I dread being evaluated

I worry others will discover how much I don't know

10

I don't speak up in meetings unless I am sure of all of the facts

I sometimes feel intimidated by the presence of senior people in meetings

I may avoid challenging other people's points of view

If I don't have authority, I avoid trying to influence the discussion

11

Where does it come from?

12

Childhood Messages and Parenting Styles
Societal and Cultural Messages
Feeling "other"
and
Who you see yourself as being 13

When you plant lettuce, if it does not grow well you don't blame the lettuce

You look for reasons it is not doing well

It may need fertiliser, or more water, or less sun

You never blame the lettuce

How to manage/overcome imposter feelings

kate atkin
helping confidence soar

15

Talk about your imposter feelings to someone who will listen - not fix!

kate atkin
helping confidence soar

16

"I got lucky"
"They were just being kind"
"They've made a mistake"

Challenge your self-talk

"It's because I worked really hard"
"I'm just doing my job"
"Anyone could have…"

"I could still have done it better…"

17

Keep your positive feedback

Review it regularly

Stop "ah, but…" Start "yes, and…"

26

Supporting/Coaching

Where do those feelings come from?
What impact are they having?

What evidence do you have to support those feelings?
What evidence do you have that contradicts them?

What makes the feelings worse/better?
